Asset Class Recap

Bank loans continued to add to their four consecutive fiscal quarters of gains, as strong investor demand for the low duration asset class picked up steam. A robust economy, supported by accommodative monetary and fiscal policy, provided a positive backdrop for fixed income markets. Investment-grade corporate bonds, as measured by the ICE BofA US Corporate Index, led bond markets higher, rising 3.8 percent, followed by Treasury and government agency bonds, as measured by the ICE BofA Treasury & Agency Index, adding 2.5 percent. On the other end of the credit spectrum, high-yield bonds, as measured by the ICE BofA US Cash Pay High Yield Index, lagged the broader fixed income market, albeit marginally, rising 2.0 percent. Leveraged Loans, as measured by the Credit Suisse Leveraged Loan Index, were one of the worst performing sectors of the bond market this fiscal quarter, however, still ended the quarter in positive territory, up 0.9 percent. Bank loans rose to begin the fiscal quarter; however, reversed course towards the latter half as the highly contagious delta variant weighed on industries that would likely be affected if lockdowns were to be re-instated. These concerns caused volatility in the bank loan market as well as other low-quality credit. Only in the last couple weeks of the fiscal quarter, COVID fears began to dissipate as the supply and breadth of vaccinations available, in addition to strong economic growth, muffled investor fears. Similar to last fiscal quarter spreads remained very tight, leading to some of the lowest quality credits outpacing the broader bank loan market, with CCC rated bonds outperforming the index.

Allocation Review

The Fund is predominantly invested in bank loans, making up 95 percent of the total portfolio. However, 4 percent is allocated to traditional high-yield bonds, which contributed positively to performance. As mentioned earlier, high-yield bonds outperformed the leveraged loans asset class. Having an overweight here, when compared to the benchmark, helped Fund performance on a relative basis. Within the leveraged loan asset class, bonds rated CCC and lower outpaced the broader leveraged loan market. The Sub-Adviser maintains an underweight to bonds rated CCC and lower, which hurt relative performance. Conversely, bonds rated BB and B contributed to positive Fund performance. Issuer selection played a key part in the outperformance this quarter as spreads remained tight and yields remained low. Over the fiscal quarter, the Sub-Adviser broadened its exposure to industries that have rallied during the re-opening, such as housing, gaming, and lodging, which have all rallied as COVID cases decline and vaccines become more available around the globe. Additionally, the Sub-Adviser reduced its allocation to the packaging industry, as raw materials needed for products soared over the fiscal quarter, cutting into companies' earnings, making their loans less attractive.

Holdings Insights

One of the largest contributors over the fiscal quarter came from the packing industry, Anchor Glass Container Corporation Floating Rate loan due 12/07/2023 (BL2483404) (holding weight*: 0.37 percent). Anchor Glass manufactures premium glass containers serving the beer, beverage, spirits, and food industries. The distressed loan was trading nearly 10 percent below its par value at the end of the previous fiscal quarter, making the valuation attractive compared to the broader loan market. The Sub-Adviser believed that the business' underlying fundamentals were still strong. As a result, the Anchor Glass bank loan rose 2.9

percent over the fiscal quarter. While the Sub-Adviser maintains an underweight to the packaging industry, the Anchor Glass loan valuation was too hard to pass up. Another contributor over the fiscal quarter was Playa Resorts Holding BV Floating Rate Due 04/27/2024 (BL2699181) (holding weight*: 0.85 percent). Playa Resorts is an owner, operator, and developer of all-inclusive resorts in Mexico and the Caribbean. Playa Resorts benefitted from the pent-up demand to travel, as many individuals begin to take vacations now that many COVID lockdown measures have been lifted. Over the fiscal quarter, hotel reservations sky-rocketed, leading to their bank loans to appreciate in value. The Sub-Adviser believes there is more room to grow in Playa Resorts and continues to hold the loan. Over the fiscal quarter, the Playa Resorts bank loan appreciated 0.5 percent.

One of the largest detractors over the fiscal quarter came from within the broadcasting industry, Diamond Sports Group LLC. The Fund held a bank loan, Diamond Sports Group LLC Floating Rate loan due 07/18/2026 (BL3005966) (holding weight* 0.16 percent), and a high-yield bond, Diamond Sports Group LLC 5.38% Due 08/15/2026 (25277LAA4) (holding weight*: 0.06 percent), which decreased 23.0 percent and 20.5 percent, respectively. Diamond Sports Group LLC is an American media and entertainment company that operates regional sports channels. Over the fiscal quarter, Diamond Sports was not able to renew broadcasting agreements with the MLB, hurting sales forecasts and damaging the value of their outstanding debt. The Sub-Adviser is evaluating its position in Diamond Sports Group LLC.

Sub-Adviser Outlook

The Sub-Adviser believes that the backdrop for bank loans remains attractive, with economic data suggesting we may approach pre-pandemic levels sooner than anticipated. Corporate earnings have continued to impress, defaults have come down considerably, and credit upgrades have outpaced downgrades by a meaningful margin, which has led to spread tightening in the bank loan space. The Sub-Adviser anticipates that the return profile in loans from this point on is centered around the coupon, primarily due substantial amount of loans that are trading near par. The Sub-Adviser will continue using extensive credit and company analysis and monitoring to seek securities with strong income potential while emphasizing managing risk.
